Co-operation for a better life in the city!

Patrik Faming
National coordinator
"Functional and sustainable urban development requires a holistic approach."
Aim

The aim of the National Platform is to increase the crosssectoral collaboration in order to meet the needs from cities, towns and regions and strengthen their sustainable development.
Organisation

Swedish Government

National Platform for Sustainable City Development

- Swedish Enviromental Agency
- Swedish Energy Agency
- Swedish Transport Agency
- Swedish Agency for Economic and Regional Groth
- Swedish National Board of Housing, Building and Planning
The Plattform aimed at increasing

- Cooperation
- Coordination
- Knowledge development
- Knowledge dissemination
- Exchange of experiences in sustainable urban development

The platform is an important link between practice and policy at local, regional and national level.
How do you build a sustainable city?

There is no recipe!
Sustainable urban development is a continuously changing process.
Four focus areas

• The human dimension in sustainable development
  Unsustainable lifestyle
  Early dialogue is decisive

• Capacity building
  Interdisciplinary knowledge development
  Convert knowledge

• Co-operation
  Cross-sectoral co-operation
  Inadequate leadership

• Financing framework
  Decision data for sustainable investments
  New sales and purchasing processes
Prioritization 2016

• The Platform will focus on housing in 2016 from a holistic perspective connected to sustainable city development.

Focus on:
• "Together"
• Focus on dialogue and results
• Develop our website – examples and financing
The sustainable city are more than housing

Shops  People  Public transportation
Water  Place to relax  Meetingsplaces
Workplaces  Parks  Arkitecture
Culture  Playgrounds for young and old
Technical infrastructure

..........and much more!
The Plattform – a place to meet!